

"Each year, dozens of new and emerging artists take the next step in their career by joining Silicon Valley Open Studios for the first time. Here's your chance to discover some exciting new artists before they become famous. Silicon Valley Open Studios is not a juried event, so no one else decides what you will see. The public is free to decide what they want to see."

Mel Thomsen, Executive Director, Silicon Valley Open Studios