

"Silicon Valley Open Studios is a great opportunity to meet the artists personally, see a larger body of work, discuss and learn about their techniques, and even discuss the possibility of a commissioned work. There is no other organized event that allows the public to get to meet the artists and spend quality time getting to know them."

Mel Thomsen, Executive Director, Silicon Valley Open Studios