FROM THE SVVA PRESIDENT

Silicon Valley Visual Arts welcomes you to the 36th year of Silicon Valley Open Studios. The arts are gradually recovering from the past two years. Artists definitely miss having opportunities to connect with the public and show their art and are looking forward to Open Studios again.

Please join us at our many locations during the first three weekends of May. This year our first weekend is focused on artists exhibiting along the coast to make it easier for visitors to find the time to check out the many talented artists there!

For art lovers and our supportive community, this Open Studios is a cost-free, once-a-year opportunity to see and purchase great art in many different media directly from artists, and to talk with them one-on-one in a relaxed environment. For artists, this is an attractive, commission-free opportunity to sell directly to the public. As you will see from looking through this directory and visiting the artists, the range and quality of art is truly outstanding.

For more information, including an artist gallery and the ability to purchase online as well as in person during Open Studios, visit svos.org. An interactive map of artists locations can help you navigate from site to site.

As a nonprofit, volunteer-run organization, we support hundreds of artists with our annual Open Studios event, our Fall Online Show & Sale, and our educational and exhibition opportunities.

I, and the Board, want to offer our deep appreciation to all the volunteers and artists, as well as to our sponsors and other supporters, who do so much to make SVOS possible. SVOS requires a significant effort to put together each year, and it would not be possible without their help – and yours – and we gratefully accept donations on our website to support these efforts.

We look forward to seeing you this May, and in the Fall for our Online Show & Sale. Be sure to look for the yellow SVOS signs!

Stephen Toll, President
 Silicon Valley Visual Arts

SILICON VALLEY VISUAL ARTS

Silicon Valley Visual Arts is Proud to Recognize 3 Artists Who Have Been Supporters & Participants of Open Studios for Many Years

RUTH WATERS — 36 YEARS

“When we travel to Europe, or Asia, or New York, even San Francisco, what do we go see? The art. That’s how we evaluate countries and cities: their culture, and especially their art.” Ruth never takes the “easy route” in her art. She creates beautiful sculptures out of trees and large limbs. She does it all with a chisel and mallet using nothing but sand paper and her strong might to hone each work. Her artwork is in many private collections.

Ruth has been instrumental in helping Artists’ communities start up from Virginia to California. She has worked with other “visionaries” that have helped create Silicon Valley Open Studios. She is now working on her latest endeavour as ArtZone 1, the new Peninsula Art Foundation located at the Tanforan Mall in San Bruno. Ask Ruth about the “road that got her here!” You won’t be disappointed.

NANCIE CROWLEY — 27 YEARS

After receiving a Master of Arts in Fine Art, Nancie’s emphasis has always been on the figure especially when working on large oils in her “Treehouse Studio”. She taught Life Drawing for many years, as well as Painting the Clothed Figure. Gradually, as she began traveling internationally, her best adventures in paint included more villagescapes and landscapes plus contour line drawing.

She enjoys working in her masterfully designed art studio, named the “Treehouse Studio” and loves to open it up to the public, exclusively for SVOS exhibits, which is now going on 27 years. Nancie invites you to take a tour through her website and visit her studio during the Silicon Valley Open Studios event.

KEVYN WARNOCK — 26 YEARS

Kevyn’s landscapes demonstrate a solid compositional foundation along with a sensitive distillation and rendition of what her artist’s eye perceives. The paintings work on several levels and seem to reveal fresh insights on each successive viewing.

Kevyn has shown her work widely throughout the Peninsula as well as having achieved acceptance in several major Bay Area shows and national competitions. Her work is represented in many corporate and private collections. Ms. Warnock maintains a studio in Burlingame where her work can be seen at annual events and by appointment.
